

Coronavirus Statement

TRANSO-PHARM continues to closely monitor the widespread impact of the coronavirus disease (COVID-19). The safety and well-being of our employees, customers, partners and suppliers remains our top priority. Additionally, we are committed to supporting our public safety and enterprise customers during this time.

A highly skilled team has been put in place and is closely monitoring the situation around the world. We have taken measures to manage the virus' impact by following guidance from the German Robert Koch Institute, World Health Organization and local governments. These measures include:

- Remote Work

We have advised employees and contractors to work from home if they can. Those with responsibilities that require them to be on-site to support the mission-critical efforts of our customers have received more information about performing their duties during this time.

- Restricted Travel

Employees have been instructed to avoid domestic and international travel.

- Avoiding Large In-Person Meetings and Gatherings

Employees have been asked to avoid attending large in-person meetings and gatherings. Our staff will utilize tele-conferencing tools to stay productive and connected with colleagues, partners and customers.

- Extra Hygiene Measures

We are implementing additional cleaning procedures at our facilities and continue to share guidance from public health authorities to help prevent the spread of COVID-19.

Business Continuity Planning

We are committed to supporting our public safety and enterprise customers during this time, as we do during natural disasters and other widespread emergencies. Business continuity plans we already have in place are being expanded to ensure we can continue to operate and meet the needs of our customers. To provide the best possible service TRANSO-PHARM has been separated into two groups over the next course of time. We apologize in advance for any inconvenience this may cause. We will do our utmost to continue to provide you with the service you are used to.

These enormous efforts on various levels have to be faced as a society.

TRANSO-PHARM will do its part!
